'The Great Awakening'

Make change that matters

Stressed. Disconnected. Burnout. The effects of COVID-19 have been far-reaching, difficult and often unpredictable. But when you have the right tools, adversity can be the catalyst for growth and discovery.

At our Women in Tax Congress in February 2022, you can tap into the insights and experience of the change-makers, top thinkers and thought leaders. Learn the techniques, strategies and tools used by the experts and how you and your team can implement them. Connect with colleagues, share your story and walk away inspired to make positive change.

Welcome from the Vice President

Jerome Tse Vice President of The Tax Institute

We are setting a new standard for success.

Increasingly, we choose balance over burnout. Positive mindset over disconnect. Action over anxiety. And we're looking to leaders in tax who embrace new perspectives and unique experiences – extraordinary leaders, for extraordinary times.

Flexibility. Collaboration. Inclusivity. These are the values set to define your professional life in a changing world. These are the values we must display and live by to encourage the next generation of leaders in tax to rise up.

Are you ready to apply them?

Join us at the 2022 Women in Tax National Congress as we explore the ideas and abilities that will drive your career forward as a role model for the industry.

Our expert speakers will span topics from making remote working work for you, to fostering wellbeing and diversity in the workplace. You'll walk away with the tools and skills to recognise, nurture and be an extraordinary leader.

"True leadership stems from individuality that is honestly and sometimes imperfectly expressed ... Leaders should strive for authenticity over perfection."

Sheryl Sandberg, COO of Facebook and Founder of LeanIn.org
