2021 Private Business Tax Retreat

25–26 February 2021 | Palazzo Versace Gold Coast

12 CPD hours

Welcome

2021 – A fresh new decade – new thinking, new ideas

On behalf of the organising committee, I am delighted to extend an invitation to you to attend the 2021 Private Business Tax Retreat to be held at the Palazzo Versace Hotel on the Gold Coast.

Since the Organising Committee agreed to the final program, our once-familiar world is almost unrecognisable. Heightened awareness has forced us all to re-examine our personal and professional routines, in respect of our everyday lives and interactions. With the unrepresented economic disruption that is still very much in front of us at the time of writing, now more than ever we will be relied on as advisers to continue to pre-empt challenges and guide our clients.

Many practitioners are renowned for doing things the way they've always done them but with the world changing almost under our feet, this retreat will be the time to reflect and recalibrate. This retreat has been designed to address a variety of new issues that may not be gaining enough visibility in an adviser's day to day practice. In doing so, and potentially in an economic environment that is favourable to restructuring, it will also traverse strategies to deal with any necessary changes.

Why you should attend

Now celebrating our 10th anniversary, the Private Business Tax Retreat is a significant event on The Tax Institute's calendar and one where we welcome new delegates to join those who have become long-standing attendees. This intensive event is like no other in the market and is focused on providing senior private client advisers with an opportunity to immerse themselves in contemporary tax issues that directly affect their clients.

For the first time also, we will be offering this event in a hybrid format to ensure we reach all interested delegates in this current environment.

Whether you are watching from our amazing venue on the Gold Coast, or viewing from the comfort of your home or office, you will experience the same expert-driven program that has brought delegates from around the country year in and year out.

Thank you

Thank you to those who have previously provided feedback which in turn has strongly influenced this year's program. The feedback from regular attendees helps us plan for both this and future events as we continue to strive to make this retreat a compelling one to attend for private client advisers.

A special thank you also to the organising committee for the time, energy and support they have contributed to ensuring that the 2021 Private Business Tax Retreat maintains the high standards of similar events over the years in Queensland.

I look forward to meeting you on the Gold Coast for what will be a truly exceptional retreat style event in the wonderful surrounds of the Palazzo Versace.

Technical program

Day 1 – Thursday, 25 February 2021

Time	Session	Presenter(s)
8.00am	Registration	Pre-function foyer
8.30–8.45am	Official opening by retreat chair	Dominic Moon, ATI Chair, 2021 Private Business Tax Retreat
8.45–9.00am	President's welcome	Peter Godber, CTA President – The Tax Institute
9.00–10.00am	Session 1 – Keynote Address: The post COVID economy COVID 19 has plunged Australia into its first economic recession in three decades. While this was not unexpected after the scale of the national shutdown in March, what is much less certain is the nature and timing of a recovery. Nicki Hutley, a Senior Partner with Deloitte Access Economics, a frequent economic commentator in the media and a regular television guest on both The Drum and The Project, will offer her insights on what a recovery might look like including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Is it likely to get worse before it gets better? – How long could a recovery to pre-COVID 19 activity take? – What has changed forever and are there any lasting positives we can expect to arise out of this experience? 	Nicki Hutley Deloitte
10.00–10.15am	Morning tea	Pre-function foyer
10.15–11.15am	Session 2 – Re-thinking business structuring It's always useful to stop and consider where we have been before we look at where we are going. This plenary is intended as a scene setter for Plenaries 2 to 6, introducing the issues that are driving business structuring choices now and into the future and the context for those issues. It will define the scope of the day before we deep dive into: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Division 7A – Small business CGT concessions – Relevant trust issues – Company versus trust comparisons and issues – Business restructuring 	Mark West, CTA West Garbutt Pty Ltd
11.15am–12.15pm	Session 3 – Dealing with the Division 7A dilemma It's been almost ten years since the government first committed to reviewing, simplifying and clarifying Division 7A to improve its operation. But delays and multiple postponements of the commencement of the proposed changes to Division 7A have made it almost impossible for practitioners to advise clients with any certainty. While we continue to speculate on the nature of the proposed changes, we must plan for and manage clients' Division 7A issues in a time of continuing uncertainty and change. This session will provide strategies to minimise any Division 7A exposures and will focus on the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – What is the current state of play? – Opportunities and risks arising from COVID-19 – Perennial Division 7A sleeper issues – Dealing with historical nightmares – Correction options when it all goes wrong 	Linda Farmer, CTA Grant Thornton

Time	Session	Presenter(s)
12.15–1.00pm	Lunch – Ill Barocco Restaurant
1.00–2.00pm	Session 4 – Small business CGT concessions – Making sense of the new rules affecting shares and units The benefits of the small business CGT concessions can be moderated by the compliance costs and complexities associated with determining eligibility for the concessions, particularly in light of the 2018 amendments which affect shares in companies and interests in unit trusts. Indeed, tax relief previously accessible under the old law may no longer be available under the new rules. This practical session will consider the operation of the new rules as they apply to sales of shares and units, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">– The additional conditions which are now required to be satisfied, including how they apply to “later entities”– How the choice of legal structure can affect the availability of the concessions– Some traps for the unwary– The special rules which apply when seeking to use the small business roll-over in Subdivision 152-E to acquire shares or units as a replacement active asset– Downturn in turnover and reduction in valuation issues– Case study/ies with numbers – deep dive with legislation, rulings (if any) and numbers to work through the problem – merging the study into the presentation with a mix of numerical mini examples.	Linda Tapiolas, CTA Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers
2.00–3.00pm	Session 5 – Trust sleepers With trusts always an ongoing area of focus for the ATO and relevance to advisers, this session is designed to provide insight into those ‘trust sleepers’ that we should all be aware of. This session will provide an overview of three key issues in the current environment and seek to provide advisers with practical tips for the management and mitigation of risks in relation to each issue. In particular, this plenary session will cover: <ul style="list-style-type: none">– The current landscape in relation to section 100A– Housekeeping – what to do if you are still distributing under an “ordinary family arrangement” where is the line likely to be?– When section 99B applies and what you should be aware of– A consideration of the Commissioner’s current position in relation to Division 855, non-resident beneficiaries and non-fixed trusts	Justin Byrne, CTA Queensland Bar

“ Having attended almost every PBTR, I find it is one of the few events that consistently gives me the right perspectives, on the right topics and the opportunity to connect with my peers.

I don’t expect 2021 to be any different.”

John Ioannou, CTA, Macpherson Kelley

Day 1 – Thursday, 25 February 2021 continued

Time	Session	Presenter(s)
3.00–3.15pm	Afternoon tea	Pre-function foyer
3.15–4.15pm	Session 6 – Trust versus company: Analysis for the new decade This session will build on the sessions from earlier in the day that have provided a deeper analysis of common tax issues for both trust and company structures. In this Plenary session, we will provide case study examples focusing on the key individual drivers between choosing a trust or company structure, including the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">– Availability of the CGT discount versus the lower corporate tax rate– Division 7A issues in respect of unpaid present entitlements and loans– Investments and funding outcomes using different structures– Loss of debt/equity interests in related parties and tax effects	Thomas Tulley, CTA EY Catherine Parkinson EY
4.15–5.15pm	Session 7 – Transitioning between trust and company Following our earlier sessions and having regard to the current tax landscape, it may become apparent to many businesses that their structure is no longer optimal. This session will look at the taxation and duty issues that arise in transitioning from a trust to a company and vice versa, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">– managing CGT with rollovers (outside of the small business CGT concessions)– cleaning up historical Division 7A issues– addressing State duty on the transfer of business assets and land (Queensland and NSW)– the pros and cons of alternate solutions– revisiting SBC eligibility	Dominic Moon, ATI Macpherson Kelley Tom Walrut, FTI Merthyr Law
5.15–6.30pm	Free time
6.30–7.00pm	Pre-dinner drinks
7.00–11.00pm	Official dinner

Official Dinner – Thursday, 25 February 2021

Join your colleagues, peers, and our esteemed presenters for an evening of dining and networking.

Day 2 – Friday, 26 February 2021

Time	Session	Presenter(s)
9.00–10.00am	Session 8 – Thought leadership – Leading the charge on tax reform The Tax Institute is well-placed to influence the design of tax policy and tax administration through its policy and advocacy activities and Thought Leadership. In this innovative session, Peter and Robyn will discuss: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – The Institute’s current tax policy and advocacy activities – The key tax reform issues identified during the Institute’s recent The Tax Summit: Project Reform event series – The Institute’s final position paper which was submitted to government – A range of tax policies, both existing and proposed, that are relevant to private clients, and how our tax system could be improved for all stakeholders. In this interactive session — which will explain why The Tax Institute is advocating particular positions on tax policy and administration and the key considerations that may not be immediately apparent to busy advisers — you will have the opportunity to ask questions and engage in the discussion. Consider the why in the context of current tax reform?	Peter Godber, CTA President, The Tax Institute Robyn Jacobson, CTA The Tax Institute
10.00–10.15am	Morning tea	Pre-function foyer
10.15–11.15am	Session 9 – Managing the superannuation guarantee minefield The Superannuation Guarantee Amnesty period flew by during the COVID-19 lockdowns with many taxpayers missing the opportunity to utilise the amnesty. However, the Amnesty has revealed how easy it is for employers to have a shortfall in their SGC obligations even where they have done their best to complying with the laws. With the ATO having unprecedented access to data to identify and target shortfalls, now is the time for all taxpayers to review their SGC compliance and put in place safeguards to prevent shortfalls in their SGC obligations. This session will cover: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – who is an employee for SGC purposes? – when is a contractor working under a contract that is wholly or principally for their labour – safeguards to reduce risk of shortfalls – managing the clearing house timing issue – identifying shortfalls and offsetting payments 	Neal Dallas, CTA McInnes Wilson
11.15am–12.15pm	Session 10 – Dodging the property ownership landmines The great Australian dream of owning property is now strewn with even more tax landmines at both the Federal and State level. Overlaid by the perennial headache of the revenue versus capital distinction, property owners increasingly have to navigate their way through the tax minefield which takes the form of continual legislative change aimed solely at their landholdings, pertinent case law and draft ATO guidance. This session will consider strategies to safely manage the following risk areas: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Subdividing, ‘flipping’, mere realisation, change of purpose – Revenue v capital dichotomy – The recently enacted vacant land changes that deny deductions for holding costs – The recently enacted main residence exemption changes affecting non-residents – Recent developments impacting on the active asset test in the small business CGT concessions 	Thomas Aitkenhead Hoffman Kelly

Day 2 – Friday, 26 February 2021 continued

Time	Session	Presenter(s)
12.15–1.15pm	Lunch – Ill Barocco Restaurant
1.15–2.15pm	Session 11 – The ATO experience With increased ATO focus on Private Wealth and Private Family groups comes an expectation of increased compliance and audit activity. Recent changes have seen the advent of a number of programs designed to improve taxpayer engagement and compliance. However, as the culture within the ATO continues to evolve, so too does their approach in dealing with taxpayers and their advisers. This session will provide practical insights into the avenues available in managing a tax dispute – from audit and objection to appeal, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – the options now available to taxpayers involved in a potential dispute and how these can best be used to improve outcomes for your clients – looking at your client from the Commissioner’s perspective – practical insights into current experiences in the dispute space 	Melinda Peters, CTA McCullough Robertson
2.15–2.30pm	Afternoon tea	Pre-Function Foyer
2.30–3.30pm	Session 12 – Panel session – The dust has settled but where to from here? In this lively punchy session, our panel of expert presenters will each discuss hot topics of relevance to private clients. Now that the dust has settled on these three issues which have been affected by recent legislative changes and judicial guidance, practitioners are better placed to advise on these matters. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. ATO Justified Trust program – with the extension of the Justified Trust program to the “Next 5,000”, more SME clients will now be actively engaged with the ATO to ensure they are reporting the right amount of tax. This part of the session will consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – What the Next 5,000 can expect in their ATO interactions – Why it’s necessary to examine your client’s tax affairs through a new lens – How to support your client through the program – Recent experiences with the ATO 2. Base rate entity passive income from 1 July 2017 – The dust has finally settled on the saga that was the reduction of the corporate tax rate with an enacted legislative framework. But issues remain in relation to the determination of base rate entity passive income which is necessary to calculate a company’s corporate tax rate and franking rate. This part of the session will examine: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – What constitutes BREPI – What interpretation issues arise from the ATO’s final ruling LCR 2019/5, including for non-portfolio dividends and rent versus royalties – The franking implications of having too much or too little passive income 3. The 2019 residency decision in Harding provided clarity on the ordinary meaning of “resides”, and raised some issues relating to the “permanent place of abode” test. The decision has impacted on a number of other more recent residency cases which were waiting on the Full Federal Court’s decision. This part of the session will look at: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Harding – what was decided? – the effect Harding has had on more recent residency cases – what this decision means in a world of decreased mobility – when being stuck in Australia might result in a change in tax status (and the Commissioner’s guidance in this regard). 	Panelists Paul Banister, CTA Grant Thornton Jacqui Reeves, CTA BusinessDEPOT Fletch Heinemann, CTA Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers Facilitator: Dominic Moon, ATI Macpherson Kelley
