

THE TAX INSTITUTE

21st Annual States' Taxation Conference

3–4 November 2021 | Adelaide Oval

12 CPD hours

Welcome

On behalf of the Conference Organising Committee, we are pleased to present the 21st Annual States' Taxation Conference program, brought to you by The Tax Institute in conjunction with the Revenue Office in each state and territory.

The States' Taxation Conference remains the only national conference covering all state and territory taxes in one technical program, with this year's conference taking place at the spectacular Adelaide Oval.

As in previous years, all state and territory Revenue Commissioners will be in attendance, together with representatives from their respective offices. With strong attendance from both the private and government sectors, the conference has always been a popular forum for interaction and networking among participants in the state taxes community. It is particularly valuable for those with practices operating across multiple jurisdictions.

As always, the Committee has responded to comments and feedback provided in previous years to ensure the technical program has been pitched at a level that provides the general practitioner with a good understanding of current issues, although more technical topics are covered in depth for the tax specialists.

Effort has been made to present topics of universal interest across all the state taxes. Plenary sessions include issues encountered in the review of Commissioners' administrative discretions, artificial intelligence and blockchain technologies, and a comparison of common issues affecting federal and state taxes. There will also be the usual update on the significant cases of the past year, followed by an expert panel discussion, which will feature concurrent sessions, separately covering duties and payroll tax.

The program once again features the dual 'duties' and 'payroll tax' streams. From a duties perspective, issues arising from the move to the "fixed to land" test for landholder duty, the difficulties in determining what is "consideration" for a transaction and unique issues that arise in relation to trusts. From a payroll tax perspective, issues relating to financial planners, stock brokers, mortgage brokers and charitable institutions, what constitutes deemed wages and the tax impact of remediation programs for wage and superannuation underpayments. As always, the conference materials will be a valuable research resource for years to come.

The Conference Organising Committee looks forward to welcoming you to Adelaide this November.

Day 1 – Wednesday, 3 November 2021

Time	Session	Presenter
9:30am	Registration
10:20–10:30am	Welcome and opening address	Jodie Fogale, CTA Co-Chair, Conference Organising Committee
10:30–10:50am	Session 1: Treasurer's address	The Hon. Rob Lucas MLC Treasurer and Minister for Finance, Industrial Relations and the Public Sector
10:50–11:20am	Session 2: Commissioner's address	Julie Holmes Commissioner of State Taxation, RevenueSA
11:20am–12:20pm	Session 3: The importance of rulings The status, application, and importance of rulings issued by the revenue authorities is an important topic that frequently warrants consideration in practice and is of significant concern for taxpayers and their advisers. In recent years, we have witnessed the revenue authorities arguing against their own rulings, raising the possibility of mounting an estoppel case. This presentation will delve into various issues associated with rulings and guidance issued by the revenue authorities and will address: <ul style="list-style-type: none">— Interesting cases, such as Grain Growers [2016] NSWCA 359 at [65]&[75] and similar cases— Federal taxes – the importance of rulings in light of the self-assessment regime— State taxes – the contrasting position, where no full self-assessment scheme exists and rulings are fundamental— The different use of rulings by courts and tribunals (as rulings are not binding on courts or tribunals)— Other communications by revenue authorities, such as guidance, circular statements and publications.	Jennifer Batrouney AM QC Victorian Bar
12:20–1:10pm	Lunch

“ This leading conference for State Taxes nationally brings together practitioners, taxpayers and the Revenue Authorities in a collaborative and open forum that provides insight to the issues and experiences encountered in the State Tax environment. I look forward to welcoming participants to Adelaide for what promises to be an interesting and engaging conference.”

Jodie Fogale, CTA, EY

Day 1 – Wednesday, 3 November 2021 continued

Time	Session	Presenter
1:10–2:10pm	Session 4A: Landholder duty – items fixed to land The landholder duty provisions across the various jurisdictions have changed considerably over the last few years, bringing an increasing array of assets and transactions into the landholder duty net. More recent changes have seen a shift not only from expanding the duty base to include items ‘fixed’ to the land, but also to incorporate certain rights and contractual interests. In addition, the [proposed] NSW introduction of an annual property tax will also impact these provisions. This session will discuss: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – 3rd party property and the impact on landholder duty assessments in practice – Items fixed to subleases, easements, and other interests in land – The 2019 WA changes, including fixed infrastructure rights and aggregated acquisitions – Valuation issues – just what interest is being valued? – Landholder duty and property tax – interaction, implications, issues. 	Rachael Cullen PwC Matthew Sealey, FTI PwC
	Session 4B: Remediation of wage and superannuation underpayments In the past few years, many businesses have identified and addressed significant employee underpayment issues. The reasons for this are many and varied depending on the particular business and applicable contracts/industrial instruments. This session will examine a number of the taxation impacts that are associated with wage and superannuation remediation programs, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Character of amounts typically paid – Timing and nexus of payroll tax liability – Interaction with WorkCover and federal obligations such as STP reporting, PAYG withholding and superannuation guarantee. Paul will address both technical and practical considerations.	Paul Tyler Deloitte
2:10–3:10pm	Session 5: Algorithms, discretions, and decisions in the “Robo” age The benefits of computer-aided decision-making are irresistible, in modern administration. The use of computers is now ubiquitous. Sometimes they simply support a decision-maker. But there is great potential in the use of “machine learning” software, and automation of decisions. This presentation uses actual examples to illustrate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Advances in tax administration, here and abroad, and how they affect parties to a matter – The administrative law context and developments. There are now cases illustrating the benefits and limits of use of machines to assist – Checks to safeguard transparency and the rule of law, to ensure natural justice, and to protect human rights. The presenters have looked to Australian and international commentary and cases, in search of best practice and solutions.	Gail Hartridge Wilberforce Chambers David W Marks QC, CTA Queensland Bar
